The first session was handled by Dr. Dominic Savio, Principal who explained the quality best practices followed by the institution and discussed the various themes as per NAAC criterion under which quality initiatives were implemented by the institution. He also elaborated the initiatives taken to fight against Covid-19. The second session was handled by Dr. Partha Pratim Ghosh, IQAC Coordinator, who highlighted the progress of the institution during its journey under previous cycles. He also highlighted the institutional culture in which students are absorbed, and showcased initiatives taken particularly for Teaching and Learning evaluation and effective use of ICT for faculty enrichment. In the third session, Dr. Shalabh Agarwal talked about the institution's vision to give the best to students by introducing quality in teaching, learning & evaluation processes and enriching it with co-curricular activities by leveraging ICT. The fourth and final session headed by Dr. Ayan Chandra talked about the Institution's Alumni Association, and about the community service and environmental conservation initiatives undertaken by the institution.

This was followed by a Question and Answer Session moderated by Dr. Devender S Kawday and Mr. Samuel Lourdraj, System Analyst, NAAC.

Dr. Neelesh Pandey, Assistant Adviser, NAAC proposed the vote of thanks.
