As per schedule, the programme started at sharp 10:00 a.m. with the registration of participants. The Pro Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Jai Gopal (the Incharge Vice-Chancellor) inaugurated the programme. Prof. B.B.L. Das, Co-ordinator IQAC, L.N.Mithila University, Darbhanga welcomed the guests and the participants and introduced the matter of awareness programme. Prof. I.N. Mishra, Co-ordinator, Department of Bio-Technology, L.N.Mithila University, Darbhanga delivered the keynote address through Power point presentation in details. Dr. B.S. Ponnudiraj, Deputy Adviser, NAAC, Bangaluru, had also highlighted the key issues. Prof. Jai Gopal, in his presidential remarks said the status of colleges can be improved through NAAC Assessment and Accreditation. He further added that, the status of the Higher Education can be energized by developing the structure of course and recent curriculum, giving weightage to Professional studies and also by improving the placement process. All Principals should know its importance.

In the first Technical Session Dr. Pratibha Singh, Deputy Adviser, NAAC, New Delhi, focused on the Revised Accreditation Framework (RAF). She, in her simple and effective presentation enabled the participants to understand the work flow of the RAF followed by the comparative analysis of the old and new processes. She explained it further, in order to encourage the participants for accreditation. She elaborated all the Seven (7) Criteria through Power point presentation.

Dr. B.S. Ponmudiraj elaborated the Past, Present and Future of the whole A&A process in a very simple and interesting way.

Third Session was F.A.Q. session. In this session participants interacted with the resource persons. The participants raised important answers. Dr. Ponmudiraj and Dr. Singh had a very lively interactive session during this round. Many Principals asked the problems that they were facing during NAAC Accreditation and Assessment process. All their doubts were cleared by both the Resource persons effectively.

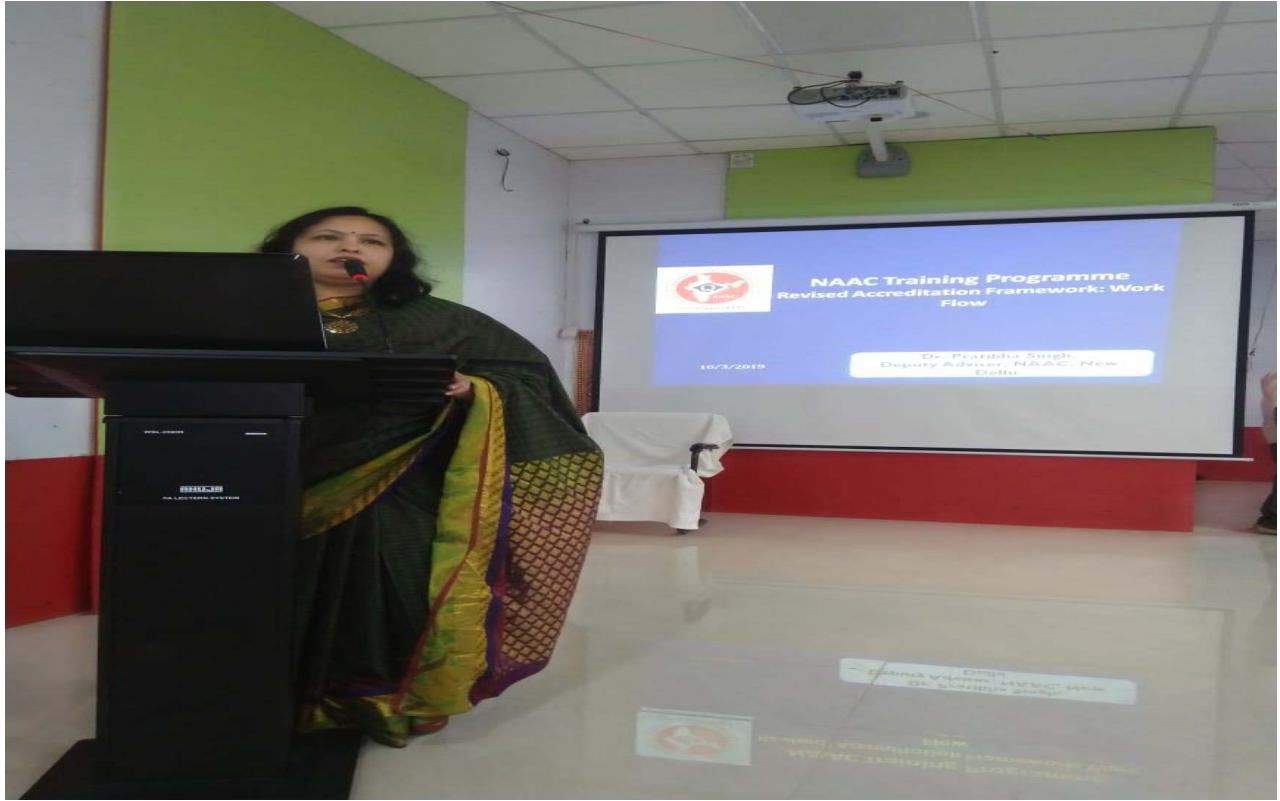

Dr. K.K. Sahu, Development Officer of the L.N.Mithila University, Darbhanga summarized the whole deliberations of the event in a very simple way. He advised, that in the situation of Bihar, NAAC should complete the whole process in two stages: first being visiting the colleges and bringing out the problems they are facing, before submission of SSR and then the usual process of NAAC Accreditation be carried out.

The programme was anchored by Prof. Muneshwar Yadav, Co-ordinator College Development Council, L.N. Mithila University, Darbhanga followed by the Vote of Thanks. He added that organizing the events in which the participants from two Universities participated, is the matter of immense pleasure for us. Prof. Yadav also appreciated the efforts of all the non-teaching employees of CCDC office and IQAC Cell, for making this event a grand success. The event came to the conclusion with National Anthem.
